April Reading Newsletter

Mrs Heald is reading: Daisy Darker by Alice Feeney

I am yet to get my teeth into this text so have not read too much of it. I really want to keep going with it as it was recommended to me so watch this space!

Welcome!

Welcome to our April edition of our Reading Newsletter.

School Reading News

Our library has had a wonderful transformation! We have had some incredible wall art installed and (not to sound biased) looks amazing. We have designed one wall to feature some of the core texts we use for teaching in each year group and the other wall has a woodland on it with some inspirational images along with my favourite quote – Reading is breathing in; Writing is breathing out. Children are beginning to visit the library to see our wall art but here are some pictures to give you a peek.

Books of the Month

Our books of the month are texts that appear on our new wall art in the library!
